

REFLOWER

Meaning: Reflower (verb): to produce flowers again after a period of dormancy or unfavorable conditions.

1. The garden will reflower in the spring if we properly care for the plants during winter.
2. After a harsh winter, the resilient flowers began to reflower, bringing color back to the landscape.
3. It's amazing how quickly the wildflowers can reflower in the right conditions after a rainstorm.
4. They decided to prune the shrubs to encourage them to reflower later in the season.
5. With the right nutrients and sunlight, the orchids will reflower multiple times throughout the year.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reflower>