

REFLUENT

Meaning: Refluent refers to the movement of water that flows back or recedes, often leaving behind objects or revealing areas previously submerged.

1. The refluxent waters of the river gradually revealed the hidden treasures along its banks.
2. As the tide receded, the refluxent waves left behind a shimmering trail of seashells.
3. The refluxent breeze brought with it the scent of blooming flowers from the nearby garden.
4. Her thoughts flowed in a refluxent manner, circling back to the memories she cherished most.
5. With each passing hour, the refluxent currents of the ocean seemed to whisper ancient secrets.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refluent>