

REFOMENT

Meaning: Refoment: to reform or revitalize an approach, strategy, or image, often in response to challenges or changes.

1. The team's commitment to refoment their approach led to groundbreaking innovations in the industry.
2. After the scandal, the organization sought to refoment its public image through community outreach programs.
3. To refoment the educational curriculum, they invited experts to provide fresh perspectives and insights.
4. The government plans to refoment its healthcare policies to better serve the needs of its citizens.
5. In an effort to refoment her writing style, she took several workshops focused on creative expression.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refoment>