

REFRET

Meaning: Refret (verb): To feel regret or remorse about a decision or choice made in the past.

1. I began to refret my decision to move to a new city as the days grew colder.
2. She didn't want to refret her choice of career after years of hard work and dedication.
3. After the argument, he had to refret his harsh words and seek forgiveness.
4. It's common to refret past actions, but it's essential to learn from them instead.
5. The artist chose to refret the painting, believing the original colors were too dull.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refret>