

REFUSABLE

Meaning: Refusable: capable of being rejected or declined without penalty or obligation.

1. The terms of the contract clearly outlined which offers were refusable at any time.
2. In a world full of choices, it's refreshing to encounter options that are refusable without consequence.
3. The manager emphasized that the proposal was refusable, allowing team members to voice their concerns.
4. Customers appreciated the refusable nature of the subscription, which meant they could cancel anytime.
5. During the negotiation, he made it clear that his initial demand was refusable and open to discussion.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refusable>