

REFUSION

Meaning: Refusion is the process of melting and reassembling materials, particularly metals, to create new forms or structures.

1. The artist's new technique involved the refusion of melted metals to create stunning sculptures.
2. After careful consideration, the scientists decided to conduct a refusion experiment to analyze the effects of temperature on the alloy.
3. Refusion of the materials was necessary to restore the original properties of the compound.
4. In the world of welding, refusion can enhance the strength and durability of the joint.
5. The chef's innovative dish featured a refusion of flavors that delighted the diners.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/refusion>