

REGENERATION

Meaning: Regeneration refers to the process of renewal, restoration, or growth, particularly in the context of healing damaged tissues or revitalizing an area following destruction.

1. Regeneration of damaged tissues is a promising area of medical research.
2. The city underwent a remarkable regeneration after the devastating earthquake.
3. Plants exhibit remarkable regeneration abilities, allowing them to thrive in harsh environments.
4. The idea of regeneration extends beyond biology, encompassing social and economic revitalization.
5. Community efforts focused on the regeneration of urban spaces have transformed the neighborhood.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/regeneration>