

RELUCTANTLY

Meaning: Reluctantly: in a manner that shows hesitation or unwillingness to do something.

1. She reluctantly agreed to join the team after much persuasion.
2. He reluctantly accepted the job offer, knowing it would mean moving away.
3. The dog reluctantly followed its owner, clearly preferring to stay at home.
4. After a long debate, she reluctantly conceded that he was right.
5. They reluctantly turned down the invitation due to prior commitments.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reluctantly>