

REPININGLY

Meaning: Repiningly: in a manner that expresses sadness, longing, or discontent over something lost or unattained.

1. She sat repiningly by the window, staring at the rain-soaked streets.
2. He spoke repiningly of the opportunities he had let slip through his fingers.
3. The old man sighed repiningly, reminiscing about his youthful adventures.
4. In the quiet of the evening, she gazed repiningly at the photographs of happier times.
5. They wandered through the empty hallways, repiningly recalling the laughter that once filled the air.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/repiningly>