

REPLETION

Meaning: Repletion refers to a state of being filled or abundantly supplied, often characterized by fullness or overflow.

1. The garden was in a state of repletion, bursting with vibrant flowers and lush greenery.
2. After a long week of work, she felt a sense of repletion as she indulged in her favorite book and a cup of tea.
3. The festival celebrated the repletion of the harvest, showcasing an abundance of fruits and vegetables.
4. His repletion of knowledge on the subject made him the most sought-after speaker at the conference.
5. In moments of repletion, she often reflected on the blessings in her life and felt immense gratitude.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/repletion>