

REPORTORIAL

Meaning: Reportorial: relating to or characteristic of reporting, particularly in journalism, often emphasizing vivid storytelling and clarity in presenting information.

1. The reportorial style of the journalist captivated readers with its vivid imagery and engaging narratives.
2. In her reportorial debut, she tackled complex social issues with remarkable clarity and insight.
3. His reportorial instincts allowed him to uncover stories that many had overlooked in the bustling city.
4. The documentary showcased the reportorial efforts of various journalists who brought important issues to light.
5. She admired the reportorial excellence displayed in the magazine, which combined thorough research with compelling storytelling.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reportorial>