

REPRIVE

Meaning: Reprieve (noun): a temporary relief or delay from a punishment or difficult situation.

1. The judge granted a temporary reprieve to the defendant, allowing them more time to prepare their case.
2. After weeks of deliberation, the committee decided to offer a reprieve to the student facing expulsion.
3. In a surprising turn of events, the governor issued a reprieve for all inmates facing imminent execution.
4. The heavy rain provided a reprieve from the oppressive summer heat, much to everyone's relief.
5. Despite the looming deadline, the team received a reprieve when the project was extended for another month.
6. The judge granted the defendant a temporary reprieve until new evidence could be presented.
7. In a surprising turn of events, the animal shelter announced a reprieve for the at-risk dogs pending a fundraising campaign.
8. The harsh winter weather provided a much-needed reprieve from the usual hustle and bustle of city life.
9. After weeks of negotiations, the threatened layoffs were put on hold, giving employees a reprieve from uncertainty.
10. The unexpected rain brought a brief reprieve from the heat of the summer sun, much to everyone's relief.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/reprieve>