

REPUGNER

Meaning: Repugnant: arousing disgust or aversion; offensive to the senses or principles.

1. The child's behavior was so repugnant that even his friends began to distance themselves from him.
2. Many found the politician's remarks repugnant and demanded an apology for his insensitivity.
3. The idea of harming innocent animals for sport is repugner to those who advocate for animal rights.
4. She felt repugnant about the way he treated his colleagues, showing no respect or empathy.
5. The documentary revealed repugnant practices in the industry that shocked viewers around the world.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/repugner>