

REQUISITION

Meaning: Requisition: a formal request or demand for the supply of goods or services.

1. The company submitted a requisition for more office supplies to meet the increased demand.
2. After reviewing the project needs, the team filled out a requisition for additional equipment.
3. The requisition process was streamlined to improve efficiency and reduce delays in procurement.
4. She prepared a detailed requisition to ensure that all necessary materials were accounted for.
5. The finance department approved the requisition after confirming the budget allocations.
6. The manager submitted a requisition for additional office supplies to ensure the team remained productive.
7. To facilitate the project, they issued a requisition for specialized equipment that would enhance efficiency.
8. After reviewing the budget, the finance department approved the requisition for new software licenses.
9. The military unit completed a requisition for emergency medical supplies during the training exercise.
10. In order to meet the deadline, the architect quickly processed a requisition for extra materials.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/requisition>