

RESENT

Meaning: To feel bitterness or indignation towards someone or something due to perceived unfair treatment or lack of appreciation.

1. She began to resent her friend's constant need for attention.
2. After years of working overtime without recognition, he started to resent his boss.
3. I could see her face change as she realized she might resent the decision later.
4. They did their best to hide the resentment that had built up over the years.
5. It's easy to resent someone when you feel they have everything you lack.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/resent>