

RESTIFF

Meaning: Restiff (adjective): stubbornly resistant to movement or change; obstinately unyielding.

1. The restiff horse refused to move forward, stubbornly standing still in the middle of the trail.
2. Her restiff nature often frustrated her friends, as she would rarely change her mind once it was made up.
3. Despite the restiff attitude of the committee members, he was determined to present his proposal.
4. The child was remarkably restiff, resisting every attempt to persuade him to try new foods.
5. In the face of such restiff opposition, the team had to rethink their strategy for the project.
6. The restiff horse refused to move forward, stubbornly standing its ground.
7. Despite her gentle coaxing, the restiff dog would not budge from its favorite spot on the couch.
8. His restiff attitude during negotiations led to a stalemate that frustrated everyone involved.
9. The child remained restiff, crossing his arms defiantly when asked to tidy his room.
10. Even after several attempts to persuade her, she remained restiff about changing her plans for the evening.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/restiff>