

RESURVEY

Meaning: Resurvey: to conduct a new survey of a particular area or land to verify or correct previous measurements or boundaries.

1. The engineers decided to resurvey the land after discrepancies were found in the original measurements.
2. Before beginning construction, the team needed to resurvey the area to ensure all boundaries were accurately marked.
3. After receiving complaints from the property owners, the city council agreed to resurvey the disputed land.
4. To accommodate the new development plans, a resurvey was necessary to update the existing property lines.
5. The archaeologists planned to resurvey the site to uncover any additional artifacts that may have been missed.
6. The team decided to resurvey the area after discovering inconsistencies in the initial measurements.
7. To ensure accuracy, the engineers will resurvey the site before construction begins.
8. After the storm altered the landscape, it was necessary to resurvey the flood zones.
9. The city council approved funding to resurvey the boundaries of the public park.
10. In light of new evidence, the researchers agreed to resurvey the historical sites for more accurate data.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/resurvey>