

RETORSION

Meaning: Retorsion is a retaliatory action taken by a state in response to an unfriendly act, often intended to express disapproval without resorting to military force.

1. Retorsion is often considered a proportional response to an act of aggression.
2. In international relations, retorsion can serve as a tool for diplomacy, allowing states to signal their displeasure without escalating tensions.
3. The concept of retorsion highlights the importance of measured responses in conflicts between nations.
4. Her approach to retorsion was carefully calculated to avoid further provocation while expressing discontent.
5. Legal experts debated whether the government's actions constituted retorsion or crossed the line into outright retaliation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/retorsion>