

REVALUATION

Meaning: Revaluation is the process of reassessing the value of a currency, often resulting in changes to its exchange rate and economic impact.

1. The revaluation of the currency led to significant changes in the economy.
2. After the revaluation, many investors began to reconsider their strategies.
3. The company's assets underwent a thorough revaluation to reflect current market conditions.
4. In light of recent developments, a revaluation of the property was deemed necessary.
5. The central bank announced a revaluation of the national currency to combat inflation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/revaluation>