

REVOCABILITY

Meaning: Revocability is the quality of being able to be withdrawn, canceled, or annulled under specified conditions.

1. The contract included a clause about the revocability of the agreement under certain conditions.
2. In legal terms, revocability refers to the ability to withdraw or cancel a decision or action.
3. The revocability of her consent raised questions about the validity of the entire process.
4. He was surprised to learn that the revocability of the offer meant he had little time to decide.
5. Understanding the revocability of your rights can significantly impact your negotiations.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/revocability>