

REVOLUTIONISM

Meaning: Revolutionism is the advocacy or support for radical change in political or social systems, often through revolutionary means.

1. The rise of revolutionism in the early 20th century led to significant political upheavals across Europe.
2. Many young activists were drawn to revolutionism as a means to challenge the established social order.
3. The principles of revolutionism often emphasize the necessity of radical change to achieve true equality.
4. In her thesis, she explored the impact of revolutionism on contemporary movements for social justice.
5. Critics argue that revolutionism can sometimes lead to chaos rather than the desired reform.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/revolutionism>