

RHETORICATION

Meaning: Rhetorication refers to the use of elaborate or persuasive language in speech or writing, often to the point of obscuring clarity or genuine meaning.

1. The politician's speech was filled with such rhetorication that it became difficult to discern his actual stance on the issues.
2. In academic circles, the term "rhetorication" is often used to describe the art of persuasive writing and speaking.
3. Her talent for rhetorication allowed her to captivate audiences, leaving them hanging on her every word.
4. The conference focused on the importance of rhetorication in effective communication within various fields.
5. Despite the heavy use of rhetorication, many found his arguments lacked substance and clarity.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rhetorication>