

RHETORICIAN

Meaning: A rhetorician is an expert in the art of effective or persuasive speaking or writing.

1. The rhetoric of the accomplished rhetorician captivated the audience.
2. Many politicians hire a skilled rhetorician to refine their speeches.
3. As a trained rhetorician, she knew the power of persuasive language.
4. The rhetorician's arguments were both compelling and logically sound.
5. In debates, a sharp-witted rhetorician can easily sway public opinion.
6. The renowned rhetorician captivated the audience with his eloquent delivery and persuasive arguments.
7. Throughout history, many great rhetoricians have shaped public discourse and influenced political thought.
8. In her debate class, she aspired to become a skilled rhetorician, mastering the art of persuasion and argumentation.
9. His reputation as a brilliant rhetorician was cemented after he delivered a powerful speech at the national conference.
10. The rhetorician's ability to dissect opposing viewpoints made her a formidable presence in any discussion.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rhetorician>