RIEF

Meaning: RIEF (Research Innovation and Education Fund) refers to a program designed to provide innovative funding mechanisms for early-stage research initiatives, particularly in developing countries.

1. RIEF is often used in the context of academic research to describe innovative funding mechanisms.

2. The RIEF program aims to support early-stage research initiatives in developing countries.

3. Researchers presented their findings at the RIEF conference, highlighting the impact of their work.

4. RIEF promotes collaboration between institutions to enhance the quality of educational funding.

5. As a member of RIEF, she contributed to several projects that focused on sustainable development.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rief