

RIVALESS

Meaning: RIVALESS: adjective describing a state of having no rivals or competitors, often due to exceptional quality or innovation.

1. The athlete's performance was so exceptional that it left her rivals feeling rivalless.
2. In a market dominated by a few giants, the startup found a way to remain rivalless through innovation.
3. His skills on the guitar made him rivalless among his peers, captivating audiences everywhere he played.
4. The team's strategy was so effective that they became rivalless in the league, winning every match.
5. With her unique approach to problem-solving, she positioned herself as rivalless in her field.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/rivaleless>