

ROUGHING-IN

Meaning: Roughing-in refers to the preliminary installation of plumbing, electrical, or other systems in a building before the final finishes are applied.

1. Roughing-in the plumbing is an essential step before the walls are closed up.
2. The contractor scheduled a team to start roughing-in the electrical wiring next week.
3. After roughing-in the HVAC ducts, they began installing the drywall throughout the house.
4. The architect emphasized the importance of proper roughing-in to avoid costly errors later.
5. Roughing-in the insulation was completed ahead of the winter season, ensuring better energy efficiency.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/roughing-in>