

RURALIZE

Meaning: RURALIZE: to transform an area or lifestyle to resemble or incorporate characteristics of a rural environment, often by introducing natural elements and promoting simpler living.

1. The government plans to ruralize the urban landscape by creating green spaces and community gardens.
2. As more people seek a simpler lifestyle, many are choosing to ruralize their living conditions by moving to the countryside.
3. Efforts to ruralize the area include promoting local agriculture and sustainable development initiatives.
4. To combat urban sprawl, the city council is considering policies that would encourage residents to ruralize their neighborhoods.
5. The artist sought to ruralize her artwork by incorporating elements that reflected the beauty of nature and rural life.
6. The community aimed to ruralize its urban landscape by integrating more green spaces and local farms.
7. Efforts to ruralize the region included promoting sustainable agriculture and enhancing local craftsmanship.
8. As cities expand, some planners advocate for strategies to ruralize urban areas to preserve natural ecosystems.
9. The initiative sought to ruralize the suburban neighborhoods, fostering a stronger connection to nature and outdoor activities.
10. To ruralize the educational curriculum, teachers incorporated lessons on farming practices and local history.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/ruralize>