

SANDGLASS

Meaning: Sandglass: a device for measuring time, consisting of two glass bulbs connected by a narrow neck, through which sand flows from one bulb to the other.

1. The sandglass on the mantelpiece measured the time it took for the tea to steep.
2. As the final grains of sand fell, the old man smiled, reminiscing about the past.
3. In the dim light, the sandglass reflected a soft glow, enchanting all who entered the room.
4. She turned the sandglass over, signaling the start of their timed challenge.
5. Each hour, the sandglass served as a reminder of fleeting moments and memories.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/sandglass>