

SANGUIFICATION

Meaning: Sanguification is the process of converting materials into a form that resembles or relates to blood, often referring to the transformation of substances for biological or energy-related purposes.

1. The process of sanguification in the human body is vital for maintaining healthy blood circulation.
2. Her research focused on the sanguification of plant materials, transforming them into a sustainable source of energy.
3. During the experiment, the team observed the sanguification of the solution as it turned a deep crimson color.
4. The artist's use of red tones in the painting symbolized the concept of sanguification, evoking feelings of vitality and energy.
5. In discussions about metamorphosis, sanguification often refers to the conversion of lifeless substances into something vibrant and alive.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/sanguification>