

SCATTER-BRAIN

Meaning: Scatter-brain: a person who is forgetful and disorganized, often losing track of tasks or details.

1. She tends to be a bit scatter-brain, forgetting where she puts her keys or what she was supposed to do next.
2. His scatter-brain nature often leads him to mix up appointments and important dates.
3. Despite being scatter-brain, she has a creative mind that sparks innovative ideas in unexpected moments.
4. You can't rely on a scatter-brain like him to remember the details of our plans.
5. Her scatter-brain tendencies make her charmingly unpredictable in social situations.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/scatter-brain>