

SCUTIFEROUS

Meaning: Scutiferous refers to having a protective covering or shield-like structure, particularly in relation to the exoskeleton of insects or the leaves of certain plants.

1. The scutiferous nature of the insect's exoskeleton provides it with robust protection against predators.
2. In botanical studies, certain plants are categorized as scutiferous due to their unique leaf structures.
3. The scutiferous characteristics of the new species were a key focus of the researchers' findings.
4. Among the various arthropods, the scutiferous ones exhibit remarkable adaptations to their environments.
5. Her fascination with scutiferous organisms led her to pursue a career in entomology.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/scutiferous>