

SEGMENT

Meaning: Segment: a distinct part or division of a larger whole, often used to categorize or analyze specific groups within a population.

1. The marketing team decided to segment their audience based on age and interests.
2. Each segment of the population has unique needs and preferences that must be addressed.
3. The film was divided into several segments, each telling a different part of the story.
4. By analyzing the data, we can identify which segment of our product line is underperforming.
5. She carefully cut the orange into equal segments to share with her friends.
6. Each segment of the pie chart represents a different category of responses from the survey.
7. To improve the project, we need to segment the tasks into smaller, more manageable parts.
8. The film's narrative is divided into segments that highlight different characters' perspectives.
9. Researchers often segment data to identify trends and patterns more effectively.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/segment>