

SELF-APPLAUSE

Meaning: Self-applause refers to the act of praising oneself for one's achievements or efforts, often to the detriment of others' recognition.

1. His tendency to indulge in self-applause made it difficult for others to appreciate his achievements.
2. After finishing the project ahead of schedule, she couldn't help but engage in a little self-applause.
3. Self-applause can sometimes mask the contributions of a dedicated team.
4. While confidence is important, excessive self-applause can come off as arrogance.
5. He approached his promotion with humility, steering clear of self-applause and focusing on future goals.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/self-applause>