SELF-CONTRADICTORY

Meaning: Self-contradictory: containing statements or beliefs that are in opposition to each other, leading to confusion or inconsistency.

1. The politician's self-contradictory statements left voters confused about his true intentions.

2. Her argument was self-contradictory, as she claimed to value privacy while sharing personal details on social media.

3. In literature, self-contradictory themes often reveal the complexity of human nature.

4. The scientist's self-contradictory findings prompted further investigation into the validity of the research.

5. It can be frustrating to engage in a discussion with someone whose beliefs are inherently self-contradictory.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/self-contradictory