

SELF-DENYING

Meaning: Self-denying: characterized by the practice of self-restraint or self-sacrifice, often prioritizing the needs of others over one's own.

1. Her self-denying nature often led her to put others' needs before her own.
2. The self-denying monk dedicated his life to serving the community without seeking recognition.
3. In a self-denying act, he refused the promotion, believing it would be unfair to his colleagues.
4. She admired his self-denying spirit, always willing to sacrifice for the greater good.
5. His self-denying approach to wealth was evident as he donated a significant portion of his earnings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/self-denying>