

SELF-REPELLING

Meaning: Self-repelling: possessing qualities that cause rejection or aversion, either in materials that resist contamination or in personal traits that alienate others.

1. The self-repelling nature of the material made it ideal for use in environments where contamination was a concern.
2. Despite his charm, his arrogance created a self-repelling aura that often pushed people away.
3. The design of the device was self-repelling, ensuring that it would not attract debris during operation.
4. Her self-repelling attitude toward criticism hindered her ability to grow and learn from her mistakes.
5. In the wild, certain species exhibit self-repelling behaviors to avoid competition for resources.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/self-repelling>