

SEMIVITREOUS

Meaning: Semivitreous refers to a texture or luster that is partially glassy or reflective, but not as fully shiny as vitreous.

1. The artist used a semivitreous glaze to achieve a unique texture on the ceramic surface.
2. In geology, semivitreous minerals display a luster that is less than vitreous but still reflective.
3. The semivitreous quality of the glass provided a muted shine that complemented the overall design.
4. During the examination, the geologist noted that the rock contained semivitreous fragments that indicated specific formation conditions.
5. The semivitreous nature of the material made it ideal for applications requiring both durability and aesthetic appeal.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/semivitreous>