

SEMIVITRIFICATION

Meaning: Semivitrification is the process of partially converting a material into a glass-like state, often used in the production of ceramics and glass to enhance durability.

1. The process of semivitrification is crucial in the production of certain types of ceramics.
2. Researchers are investigating the effects of semivitrification on the durability of glass materials.
3. Semivitrification can enhance the thermal stability of various composite materials.
4. Understanding the mechanisms behind semivitrification could lead to innovations in waste management technologies.
5. The unique properties of semivitrification make it an interesting subject of study in material science.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/semivitrification>