

SEPARABILITY

Meaning: Separability refers to the quality or condition of being able to be divided or distinguished into distinct parts or elements, particularly in the context of complex systems or mathematical functions.

1. The concept of separability is crucial in understanding complex systems in physics.
2. In mathematics, the separability of certain functions can greatly simplify the analysis of equations.
3. The legal framework surrounding the separability of contracts often influences the outcome of disputes.
4. In psychology, separability can refer to the ability to distinguish between different emotional responses.
5. The separability of the two variables allowed researchers to isolate the effects of each one independently.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/separability>