

SEVER

Meaning: To sever means to cut off or break a connection, relationship, or association.

1. The committee decided to sever ties with the organization after the scandal.
2. She had to sever her connection with the toxic friendships that were dragging her down.
3. The doctor recommended that they sever the damaged nerve to alleviate the patient's pain.
4. To protect his interests, he chose to sever all business relations with the untrustworthy partner.
5. After much contemplation, he realized it was time to sever the unhealthy habits he had developed.
6. The company had to sever its ties with the unreliable supplier.
7. She decided to sever her emotional connection to the past and move forward.
8. The surgeon had to sever the damaged nerve to save the patient's hand.
9. In a surprising turn of events, the two friends chose to sever their friendship after years of loyalty.
10. The storm's intense winds were strong enough to sever power lines across the region.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com
<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/sever>