

SHIPWORM

Meaning: Shipworm: a marine bivalve mollusk that bores into wood, often causing damage to submerged wooden structures.

1. The shipworm, despite its name, is actually a type of marine bivalve mollusk.
2. Many wooden structures underwater are at risk of damage due to the relentless feeding habits of shipworms.
3. Scientists study shipworms to understand their unique ability to digest cellulose found in wood.
4. In coastal regions, shipworm infestations can lead to significant economic losses for the fishing and shipping industries.
5. The presence of shipworms in a marina is often an indicator of a healthy marine ecosystem.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/shipworm>