

SIGNPOST

Meaning: A signpost is a post or structure displaying directional information or guidance, typically found at intersections or along paths.

1. The old signpost at the intersection was covered in rust and barely legible.
2. As we hiked through the woods, we relied on the signpost to guide us to the nearest campsite.
3. The town council decided to install a new signpost at the popular trailhead for better navigation.
4. He pointed out the signpost that indicated the distance to the next town, reassuring us we were on the right path.
5. A large signpost stood at the entrance of the park, welcoming visitors with maps and directions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/signpost>