

SIMPERED

Meaning: SIMPERED: to smile or speak in a coy, ingratiating, or affectedly shy manner.

1. She simpered in response to his compliment, her cheeks flushing a delicate pink.
2. The child simpered at the praise from her teacher, clearly pleased with her performance.
3. He simpered, trying to hide his embarrassment after tripping over his own feet.
4. As she simpered, the group exchanged knowing glances, aware of her feigned modesty.
5. With a simpered smile, she delivered the news, hoping to soften the blow of disappointment.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/simpered>