

SIMPERINGLY

Meaning: SIMPERINGLY: in a coy or ingratiating manner, often characterized by a silly or self-satisfied smile.

1. She greeted her boss simperingingly, trying to mask her true feelings of resentment.
2. The children looked up at the clown simperingingly, captivated by his silly antics.
3. He spoke simperingingly to the guests, attempting to charm them with exaggerated compliments.
4. As she accepted the award, she smiled simperingingly, her humility overshadowed by her pride.
5. The politician answered questions simperingingly, hoping to win over the crowd with false sincerity.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/simperingly>