

SINK

Meaning: SINK (verb): to descend or submerge below the surface of a liquid due to gravity or weight.

1. The ship began to sink after hitting the iceberg.
2. She watched in dismay as her favorite toy sank to the bottom of the pool.
3. He decided to sink his savings into starting a new business.
4. After a long day, she felt her energy levels sink as soon as she sat down.
5. The heavy rain caused the river to swell and threaten to sink the nearby houses.
6. The ship began to sink slowly after hitting the iceberg.
7. She watched as the sun seemed to sink below the horizon, painting the sky in vibrant colors.
8. He decided to sink all his savings into the new business venture.
9. After a long day at work, she liked to sink into her favorite chair with a good book.
10. The weight of his regrets seemed to sink his spirits deeper each day.
11. The boat began to sink slowly as water filled its hull.
12. She watched in despair as her dreams seemed to sink beneath the weight of reality.
13. After hours of searching, they finally found the missing keys at the bottom of the kitchen sink.
14. He felt a wave of embarrassment wash over him, as if he could sink into the ground and disappear.
15. The sun began to sink below the horizon, painting the sky in hues of orange and purple.
16. She watched as her worries began to sink in, leaving her feeling overwhelmed.
17. After a long day, he found it hard to sink into a peaceful sleep.
18. The old sink in the kitchen was rusted and needed to be replaced.
19. As the sun set, the colors of the sky seemed to sink into darkness.

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/sink>