

SLIT

Meaning: A slit is a narrow opening or cut made in a surface or material.

1. She carefully made a slit in the envelope to retrieve the letter inside.
2. The fabric was torn, leaving a long, jagged slit along the seam.
3. He glanced at the slit in the curtain, hoping to catch a glimpse of the outside world.
4. After the accident, a deep slit ran across the surface of the car's hood.
5. The artist used a slender knife to create a delicate slit in the clay for detailing.
6. She carefully made a slit in the fabric to insert the zipper.
7. The rabbit darted through a narrow slit in the bushes, escaping from the predator.
8. He noticed a small slit in the ceiling that let in a beam of sunlight.
9. After the storm, a slit appeared in the roof, causing water to leak inside.
10. The artist created a stunning effect by using a slit to channel light through the sculpture.
11. She carefully made a slit in the fabric to create an opening for the zipper.
12. The surgeon used a scalpel to create a precise slit in the skin during the operation.
13. A narrow slit in the door allowed a sliver of light to shine into the dark room.
14. He noticed a slit in the tire, which meant he would need to replace it before the trip.
15. The artist incorporated a slit in the canvas to give the painting a unique dimension.