

SLOPSELLER

Meaning: A slopseller is a vendor who sells low-quality or inferior goods, often in a marketplace setting.

1. The slopseller had a reputation for selling low-quality goods to unsuspecting customers.
2. In the bustling marketplace, the slopseller called out to passersby, trying to attract their attention.
3. Despite his unkempt appearance, the slopseller managed to charm many with his persuasive talk.
4. The village council decided to regulate the activities of the slopseller to protect consumers.
5. It was said that the slopseller's wares were often more trouble than they were worth.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/slopseller>