

SOUNDING-BOARD

Meaning: A sounding-board is a person or group that provides feedback or support for ideas, proposals, or plans.

1. The committee served as a sounding-board for the new policy proposals.
2. Her friends acted as a sounding-board, giving her valuable feedback on her business idea.
3. In the meeting, he used the group as a sounding-board to gauge the team's opinions on the project.
4. The writer found her editor to be an excellent sounding-board for brainstorming plot twists.
5. During the workshop, participants were encouraged to use each other as sounding-boards for their creative concepts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/sounding-board>