

SPECK

Meaning: A speck is a tiny spot or particle, often referring to a small piece of matter or a minute mark.

1. A speck of dust floated through the sunlight streaming in from the window.
2. She noticed a tiny speck of paint missing from the edge of the doorframe.
3. The detective discovered a speck of blood on the carpet that could lead to new evidence.
4. From a distance, the mountain looked like a mere speck against the vast sky.
5. He squinted, trying to discern the tiny speck on the horizon that might be a ship.
6. A speck of dust floated lazily in the sunlight streaming through the window.
7. She noticed a speck of paint missing from the edge of the doorframe.
8. The artist skillfully added a speck of white to the dark canvas to create contrast.
9. He squinted at the distant mountain, trying to make out a speck of movement.
10. After the storm, there was just a speck of the old house left standing among the debris.
11. A tiny speck of dust floated through the sunlight streaming in the window.
12. She noticed a speck of paint missing from the corner of the wall.
13. The artist added a speck of color to the otherwise monochrome painting.
14. Even a speck of kindness can brighten someone's day.
15. The scientist examined the speck under a powerful microscope.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/speck>