

SPECKLED-BELLY

Meaning: 'SPECKLED-BELLY' refers to a bird or fish characterized by a belly that is marked with spots or speckles, often used to describe specific species like certain trout or birds.

1. The speckled-belly of the bird glimmered in the sunlight as it perched on the branch.
2. After hours of fishing, he finally caught a speckled-belly trout that exceeded his expectations.
3. The artist chose to paint a beautiful landscape featuring a speckled-belly toad sitting by the pond.
4. While hiking, we were lucky enough to spot a speckled-belly snake slithering through the grass.
5. The children delighted in watching the speckled-belly frogs leap from lily pad to lily pad in the pond.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/speckled-belly>